

22 Movies Every Designer Should Watch On Netflix

IN SEARCH OF SOME INSPIRATION? THEN WE HAVE THE MOVIES FOR YOU!

Happy Memorial Day! We're taking the day off to stuff our faces with barbecue, back on Tuesday. Until then, enjoy some of the most popular stories from our archives.—Eds

Sometimes you take a look at your Netflix queue and think there's nothing decent on the service. That's not entirely true! Netflix has certainly lost its library of mainstream Hollywood films over the past few years. But for the designer in search of inspiration—or anyone with a love of visual culture—Netflix is still loaded with some superb films and documentaries. Here are 22 to get you started.

3. DESIGN IS ONE: LELLA & MASSIMO VIGNELLI

Vignelli Associates is considered one of the greatest cross-disciplinary design firms in history—best known for producing the iconic, once-polarizing Vignelli NYC Subway Map. Lella and Massimo Vignelli were the husband and wife team behind it. Design Is One profiles their creative relationship, which spanned decades, before Vignelli's death in 2014. [\[Watch here\]](#)